Introduction - Intentions

"We, the Arcturians wish to speak to you of our intentions regarding the information that will be shared on this web site. Our focus over the next nine months will be to teach you about oneness and how it is experienced on your planet, through the different life forms and their interconnectedness.

We will be teaching through both our words and helping you experience oneness through our frequency. Our words will offer a very particular and precise teaching; our frequency will begin moving you into this teaching before you read our truths. We encourage you to read over our words regularly for through this connection we will sing to your soul and in return your spirits will share their earthly connection with us.

We, the Arcturians, come to you in peace we honor your integrity. We will not match your frequencies or blend our energies with yours unless we are invited. We consider you fellow travelers and have an inherent respect for your journey. We also come as visitors to your planet and to your moment in time and space, as such we honor you as hosts and we assure you we do not overstep our bounds or our welcome.

Welcome to our corner of your time and space, you are loved."
